14. MILITARY RAILWAYS  Gauge 1.050m

An extensive system was built by the Turkish 1915/1916. Military passenger services were provided on the principal lines. Several temporary supplies lines were also built. The lines were abandoned following occupation by the British Army and replaced by today's standard gauge system, mainly on different alignments. The following list of locations (passenger stations?) from Hedjaz Railway by R. Tourret.  junction with line to Jerusalem, which was regauged from 1 metre, see Line 1.
